EDUCATION

PhD in Neuroscience

University of Iowa

Projected May 2029

Dissertation Advisor: Dr. Michelle Voss

Bachelor of Science in Psychological Science

Missouri University of Science & Technology (Missouri S&T)

May 2024

Concentration: Cognition and Neuroscience

Honors Thesis: Aesthetic responses to poetry: Differences in Modality

Advisor: Dr. Amy Belfi

Bachelor of Science in Biological Sciences

Missouri University of Science & Technology (Missouri S&T)

May 2024

Minor: Chemistry

PUBLICATIONS

2025

Hanson, J. *, Frame, J. , Bai, E., Mehl, K., Jakubowski, K., & Belfi, A. M. (2025). Popular music and movies as autobiographical memory cues. Memory & Cognition. Online ahead of print. *contributed equally Mehl, K., Reschke-Hernandez, A. E., Hanson, J., Linhardt, L., Frame, J., Dew, M., Kickbusch, E., Johnson, C., Bai, E., & Belfi, A. M. (2025). Music-evoked autobiographical memories are associated with negative affect in younger and older adults. Experimental Aging Research, 51, 1-18.

2024

Frame, J., Mehl, K., Head, K., & Belfi, A. M. (2024). The influence of sensory modality on aesthetic judgments of poetry. Psychology of Aesthetics, Creativity, and the Arts. Online ahead of print.

2023

Frame, J., Gugliano, M., Bai, E., Briellmann, A., & Belfi, A. M. (2023). Your ears don't change what your eyes like: People can independently report the pleasure of music and images. Journal of Experimental Psychology: Human Perception and Performance, 49, 774-785.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Undergraduate Research Assistant – Music Cognition and Aesthetics Laboratory

2021 – 2024

Department of Psychological Science, Missouri S&T

- Conducted data collection using fNIRS (NIRx NIRSport2) and psychophysiology (BIOPAC MP160: heart rate, skin conductance, respiration) equipment, including setting up the equipment, preparing participants, and troubleshooting technical issues.
- Collected and analyzed behavioral data using various research methods, including surveys (Qualtrics), in-person testing (using Psychopy), and statistical analysis software (R).
- Developed two manuscripts (see “Publications” above) from conception to submission, including conducting extensive literature searches, synthesizing research findings, and writing the manuscripts

Undergraduate Research Assistant – Bias Laboratory

2021 – 2023

Department of Psychological Science, Missouri S&T

- Led over a dozen facilitated discussions on cognitive bias in an experimental study in groups of up to six participants.
- Analyzed 100s of participants' data and coded it accordingly to organize and enable the ability to draw conclusions through statistical software.

- Conducted literature reviews and synthesized findings on topics related to gender biases and the influence of intersectionality.

Summer Scholars Research Intern – Cognitive & Sensory Imaging Laboratory
Boys Town National Institute of Human Neuroscience, Nebraska

Summer 2022

- Analyzed data on 50+ MRI and MEG data scans from child participants with a variety of different software (BESA MRI, SPSS, Matlab).
- Learned how to effectively analyze and understand Magnetoencephalography data and Procedures.
